Internationalization considerations notwithstanding, representatives acknowledged extraordinarily complicated administrative responsibilities.