This document checks the quality of English conversion. Every paragraph was written by us for this test and comes from no outside source.

The first paragraph states the purpose: every word must be kept, the order must not change, and no number may be lost on the way.

The second paragraph holds a few numbers. The budget for 2026 was 12500 dollars, 38 people took part, and the meeting lasted 90 minutes.

The third paragraph is about paragraph boundaries. A paragraph should still be one paragraph after conversion, not a stack of short lines.

The fourth paragraph only makes the text long enough to judge the reading order, so its sentences try not to repeat any group of four words.

The last paragraph sums it up: when the conversion is right, the metric shows full recall and reports nothing extra at all.
